

Standards-Based Grading

Friday January 30, 2015 8 to 3

"Rick has ideas that have the potential to revolutionize education and help kids truly reach their full potential. Rick is currently a teacher, so he really does practice what he preaches. I am very excited for the opportunity to hear his ideas because he knows how to accomplish the task we all strive to complete: improve student learning and achievement."

Superintendent Jason Dolliver
Pender Public Schools

This workshop is provided by ESU #1 in partnership with South Sioux City Community Schools and is being made available to attendees at no cost. All certified staff will have an opportunity to enjoy lunch off-site from 11:30-12:30. There will be an administrative luncheon from 11:30-12:30 on-site at the conference center.

Rick Wormeli is a nationally board certified teacher, author and speaker whose humorous and engaging presentations appeal to educators all over the world. Rick may challenge your thinking, but, as he himself has stated, "This is a little bit radical, but hear me out before you judge it."

Follow Rick on Twitter @RickWormeli. To learn more about Rick, visit his website at <http://rickwormeli.net/>.

Registration will be available during the Fall of 2014. You will register your district name, administrators attending the administrative luncheon and the total number of participants with Julie Rose at ESU #1. You can reach Julie at (402) 287-2061 or jrose@esu1.org.

Questions about the training should be directed to Bob Uhing or Rhonda Jindra at ESU #1.

Marina Inn Conference Center, South Sioux City

