

APL Instructional Strategies

Presenters: Dr. Jean Anastasio & David Perry

Fall 2012

September 11-12-13 and November 13-14 from 8:30 am - 3:00 pm
Educational Service Unit #1 - Wakefield, NE

The cost to attend this five-day workshop will be $145 for participants in the ESU #1 service area and $475 for participants outside of the ESU #1 service area. Lunch and APL resources will be included, with resources being distributed at the conclusion of the workshop series. College credit is also available if participants choose to earn three graduate credits from Wayne State College. Districts will be billed full amount for non-participating registrants.

APL is an instructional skills training designed to assist educators in targeting specific skills and strategies for application in the educational classroom. With consistent application, these skills and strategies will contribute to classroom success. Participants will be trained in the following areas:

- | | | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|---------------------|--------------------|
| 🍏 Anticipatory Set | 🍏 Manage Time to Facilitate Learning | 🍏 Feeling Tone | 🍏 Level of Concern |
| 🍏 Active Participation | 🍏 Clear Directions and Information | 🍏 Tell What and How | 🍏 Practice |
| 🍏 If You Want It, Teach It | 🍏 Classroom Conditions | 🍏 Modeling | 🍏 Interest |
| 🍏 Knowledge of Results | 🍏 Providing an Exit | 🍏 Reinforcement | 🍏 Closure |

These instructional skills and strategies will help educators become competent in classroom management. Participants will also learn the five basic strategies: Check for Understanding; On-the-Clock; Wait Time; Temporary Exit Option (PASS); and Beginning of Class.

To register for this and other workshops, please register online at www.esu1.org and click on Event Registration. You can also register with Julie via email at jrose@esu1.org or by calling (402) 287-2061.

